

Home-Based Travel Consultants

Home-Based travel consultants represent the fastest growing segment of the travel and tourism industry with an increase of 17% per year. Work from home, create your own hours and set your own financial goals. If you are looking for a second career or a dynamic first career that offers flexibility and an opportunity to see the world, becoming a home-based travel consultant may be your ticket!

Home-Based Travel Consultant Statistics

77% of approximately 25,000 home-based travel consultants are women.

80% of home-based travel consultants are Baby Boomers over the age of 40 and most are starting a second career.

90% of home-based travel consultants chose this profession because of flexible hours, low overhead, less stress, and worldwide travel benefits.

89% of all home-based travel consultants sell vacation travel products such as cruises, tour packages, and honeymoons.

Full-time home-based travel consultants work between 26-35 hours a week.

75% of their business comes from family, friends, and referrals.