Providing good boundaries for students that don't have them!

This seminar will focus on:

Helping students to minimize the negative impact outside forces have on their learning.

Application of an Active Listening technique that can increase instructor confidence in listening to and referring students for help they need.

Information on the Counseling Services by Personal Development Services office will be provided.