Writing and Research Across the College (W/RAC) workshop #4

Assessing Writing Assignments

Writing Across the College (WAC) invites you to attend a hands-on workshop designed to help you effectively evaluate student writing.

Writing assignments can help your students reach the learning goals you have set for your course! But – what strategies can instructors use to effectively respond to student writing? We’ll discuss the use of rubrics and other evaluative tools, types of evaluation (formative vs. summative), and linking writing to course goals and outcomes.

Faculty are encouraged to bring syllabi, assignments, questions, or just bring yourself!

Tuesday 3/17/2009 or Friday 3/20/2009
Time: 3:30-4:30 pm or Time: Noon - 1:00 pm
Location: SCB 2401

Adjunct faculty are eligible for compensation if they attend.

This workshop is presented in conjunction with the HCC Instructional Development Center and the HCC Library.

For more information, please contact Jennifer Swartout at ext. 8609 or jennifer.swartout@heartland.edu.