

Criminal Justice Transcription

Image on screen: Group of students and Heartland logo

Speaker: Dewhitt Bingham, Criminal Justice Faculty

"When you come to Heartland and you major in Criminal Justice, you're actually going to learn the latest in policing, you're going to learn about probation, you're going to learn about parole, what it takes to be a parole officer, and you're going to learn about prisons. You're going to learn about the court system."

Action: Student taking notes and in classroom as Professor Bingham speaks

Speaker: Chaz, Illinois State University student

"The reason I wanted to get into the criminal justice field is to help people."

Action: Classroom interaction

Speaker: Allison Corel, McLean County Law and Justice Center, Criminal Complaint Division

"There's a lot of opportunities for anybody that chooses the criminal justice field. There's things like police officer, correctional officer, probation. And there's the state level, local or federal."

Action: Students working with data gathering equipment in classroom

Speaker: Kayla, Criminal Justice System Student

"At Heartland, I've had the opportunity to hold various internships with police departments."

Speaker: Josh Adkins, Police Officer, City of Lewiston

"Heartland Community College helped give me the foundation to become a police officer."

Action: Students taking notes in class and working together with fingerprinting equipment

Speaker: DeWhitt Bingham

"When students come to Heartland, we want to try to identify what their career of choice is, and as soon as they figure that out, then we can actually put them on a track that will move them closer to their goal or career of choice."

Action: Students working together on data gathering and mingling on campus

Speaker: Chaz

"Obtaining my Associates Degree at Heartland Community College really helped me transition into a four-year university."

Action: Students listening to a class lecture and working with equipment; students standing in front of class with professor

Speaker: DeWhitt Bingham

"I've enjoyed watching the students grow as individuals, as well as being educated in the field, and it gives me great joy to see them actually working in the field of choice after completing their education here at Heartland Community College."

Image on screen: Heartland logo and images of students together.